

MICROECONOMICS I - WEEKLY PROGRAM

Prof. Tommaso Nannicini

Office: 11.2.26, Phone: 9881, E-mail: tnannici@eco.uc3m.es

Web site: <http://www.tommasonannicini.eu>

Mon, October 1, 2007:	Introduction: thinking like an economist.
Wed, October 3, 2007:	No class.
Mon, October 8, 2007:	Breaking the ice with exercises in economics.
Wed, October 10, 2007:	Gains from trade. Information. Markets and governments.
Mon, October 15, 2007:	Absolute versus comparative advantages in international trade.
Wed, October 17, 2007:	Demand, supply, and the price mechanism.
Mon, October 22, 2007:	The demand-supply model at work.
Wed, October 24, 2007:	Problem set correction (No.1).
Mon, October 29, 2007:	Elasticity and the effects of taxes.
Wed, October 31, 2007:	Price ceilings and price floors.
Mon, November 5, 2007:	A first flashback: consumer's choice.
Wed, November 7, 2007:	Exercise class.
Mon, November 12, 2007:	Once again: consumer's choice.
Wed, November 14, 2007:	A second flashback: firm's production decisions.
Mon, November 19, 2007:	Wrap-up: from individual decisions to market curves.
Wed, November 21, 2007:	Problem set correction (No.2).
Mon, November 26, 2007:	The competitive model.
Wed, November 28, 2007:	The efficiency of competitive markets.
Mon, December 3, 2007:	Brush-up class.
Wed, December 5, 2007:	Mid-term exam.
Mon, December 10, 2007:	Market failures. Imperfect competition.
Wed, December 12, 2007:	Monopoly.
Mon, December 17, 2007:	Externalities. Environmental policy.
Wed, December 19, 2006:	Asymmetric information. The role of government.
Wed, January 9, 2008:	Problem set correction (No.3).
Mon, January 14, 2008:	Exam preparation (exercises).
Wed, January 16, 2008:	Uncertainty and risk. Capital markets.
Mon, January 21, 2008:	Once again: capital markets
Wed, January 23, 2008:	Brush-up class.

Classes in italics will be held by the TA.